

The keys to success for Developing Skills

- I can focus on the present (rather than reviewing or anticipating).
- I can carry out responsibilities satisfactorily.
- I am developing a range of relationships with wider members of my community.
- I am happy to makes changes to plans when necessary.

I can offer ideas or options in new and unfamiliar circumstances.

I take time and accept practice is necessary when developing new skills.

Skills
&
Structure